QUOTES

Students becoming 'authors of their own world'

Awesome idea to get students involved and developing a deeper understanding of global issues

A very student-driven project – seems they really got into it.

Global village concept brought to life